

Winter Talks at Oatlands

Trafficked to Louisiana: The Untold Story of the People Enslaved at Oak Hill

Saturday, March 8, at 1pm

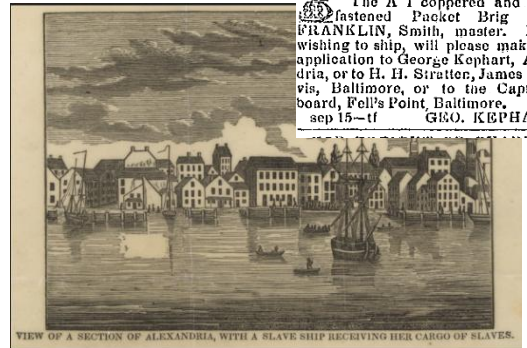

In 1838, 40 men, women and children were sold from President Monroe's Oak Hill plantation in Loudoun County. They were trafficked south, along the coast, and up the Mississippi River to Iberville Parish to work on a sugar plantation called Alhambra.

Emily Stanfill's research led her across multiple states and through thousands of documents as she learned the fate of Oak Hill's enslaved community. Join us as Emily shares her research story and what she has uncovered about the Bakers, Gantts, HARRISES, BERRYMANs, and others.

FOR NEW ORLEANS.
To sail on the 27th instant.
The A 1 coppered and copper fastened Packet Brig ISAAC FRANKLIN, Smith, master. Persons wishing to ship, will please make early application to George Kephart, Alexandria, or to H. H. Strutton, James H. Parvis, Baltimore, or to the Captain on board, Fell's Point, Baltimore.
sep 15-tf G. K. KEPHART.

In partnership with the Black History Committee of the Friends of the Thomas Balch Library and the Edwin Washington Project. The EWP's latest edition of the Loudoun Bulletin, with Emily's article, will be available for purchase.

The program is free and open to the public. Advance reservations are not required.

Made possible in part by a grant from the VA250 Commission in partnership with Virginia Humanities.

Oatlands * 20850 Oatlands Plantation Lane * Leesburg VA * 20175

www.Oatlands.org